Towards Greater Voter Involvement

Report No. 129

28 June 2007

14th Congress Legislators

Senator Loren Legarda leads the rank of Senatorial candidates that won in the May elections with more than 18 million votes. She also topped the same race when she entered the Senate in 1998.

Assured of an insurmountable lead, the top 10 senators were proclaimed on 6 June. 11th placer former Navy lieutenant Antonio F. Trillanes IV was later proclaimed on 15 June at the Comelec headquarters in Intramuros, but not without protest from the top military hierarchy.

The final slot is still a toss-up between Aquilino "Koko" D.L. Pimentel and Juan Miguel F. Zubiri. Comelec has yet to decide on the Maguindanao votes after allegations of poll fraud. The province has 377,044 registered voters.

The Commission has set up Task Force Maguindanao to investigate reports that no actual voting took place and that ballots were only manufactured. The Opposition camp also questioned the 12-0 vote in favor of Team Unity, where 19 senatorial candidates, including six from the Genuine Opposition slate got zero votes.

The incoming batch includes seven re-electionist senators, with Senator Gringo Honasan and Senator Legarda dating back to the 10th and 11th Congress, respectively. At least three were congressmen from the 13th Congress.

At the House of Representatives, at least 111 were given a fresh three-year mandate. Seventeen of the members of the previous Congress assumed different elected posts, while 33 fielded their own relatives in their respective positions. At least 12 Congressmen lost in their re-election bid, while 19 lost in their shot for a different post.
